RESEARCHING THE MAUDLIN FAMILY

By Orpha Maudlin

While searching during the past few years, I found a few things which may be of interest to those who bear the name Maudlin, and to those who are related.

The Maudlins were originally French Huguenots, driven from France to England by persecution. The struggle between Catholics and Protestants (Huguenots) occurred from 1547-1559, during the reign of Henry the Second of France. Apparently, the Maudlins lived in the Northern District, as the people who now live there are predominantly of the tall, fair-haired, blue-eyed type; obviously related to the Scandinavians and Teutons, who long ago made that part of France their home.

Whereas "maudlin", as a girl's name (Little Maud) was frequently used in England in the 16th Century; it derives, as does the family name, from the Anglo-French pronunciation of Magdelene as Maudlin. Magdelene College in England is still pronounced Maudlin. The English word, maudlin, originally derived as an adjective; from Mary Magdelene's prodigality, in using valuable unguents to bathe Christ's feet. Its other meanings have been derived therefrom.

Our uncle, Caleb Maudlin, (8th generation) objected to the connotation of drunkenness, and changed the spelling to Mauldin. War Cartoonist, Bill Mauldin's family descended from Ezekiel the 1st, and his wife, Hannah. This has been researched. Bill Mauldin did or does live in Kansas City, Missouri.

Ezekiel the 1st came from England and settled in what is now known as North Carolina. I have not been able to find in which year he immigrated. According to records, he was born about 1669. Other records show that he wed Hannah Nicholson of Perquimans County, North Carolina in 1693. This county is situated on the Albemarle Sound of the Atlantic Ocean. Records of births, marriages, wills and land transfers, indicate the family lived in North Carolina for more than a century. I would have liked to travel to North Carolina collecting records of the family, but could not afford to do so. We traveled to Montana, South Dakota, Nevada, and twice to Salt Lake City, Utah in search of Maudlin family records. In the early 1800's, some of the Maudlins moved to Indiana to make their homes. During the next few years, some migrated to Iowa. From there, some moved to Montana, Texas, California, South Dakota, Oregon, and probably many other states.

Lucinda Maudlin wed Lawson Hollingsworth in West Branch, Iowa.

In February, 1876, they moved from Iowa to Indiana Colony, close to what is now Pasadena, California. Among their children, were two sons; Henry and Arthur. Henry became the first Postmaster of Pasadena on September 21, 1876. After serving three years, he retired from the position to become a jeweler. His brother, Arthur, was appointed Postmaster on June 18, 1879; but soon tired of this occupation and resigned in April, 1880. The Hollingsworths, Vores, and Giddings were influential in the development of Pasadena. Jennie Hollingsworth (8th generation) Giddings (born 1858) wrote a book entitled, I Can Remember Early Pasadena. This book was published when Jennie was in her 92nd year.

Lloyd (9th generation) Maudlin (born 1881), son of Lawson (8th generation) and Drusilla Maudlin, was appointed first Postmaster for the town of Maudlin, Montana, which had been named for him. He served in that capacity from 1916 to 1926, when he apparently left the community. After that time, the mail was sent to Angela, Montana. There are no longer any buildings on the site of Maudlin, Montana, which was still on the map until one or two years ago. It was situated in Rosebud County, which is in the eastern-central part of Montana, about 25 miles north of Miles City.

Lloyd's parents lived near there on a ranch, his mother caring for Lloyd's children, as he and his wife had separated. One day, in 1920, Lloyd's father, Lawson, and Lloyd's son, (Lawson), were in the field and were both electrocuted. They somehow came in contact with an electric wire, which was alongside the railroad track that ran nearby.

Dave and I went to the Courthouse in Miles City, and found a book that had the names of the first Postmasters and where they served. We obtained a copy showing Lloyd was appointed Postmaster of Maudlin, Montana. We also had a copy made showing where he had purchased land in 1915.

On July 23rd, 1902, Mattie, wife of David (8th generation) Maudlin, accompanied by her children, (Bertha, David, Melvin, Ruth, and Walter) traveled by team and wagon to Custer, South Dakota. The eldest daughter, Mary, and her husband, Frank Harris were already residing in Custer. Rachel, another daughter, was teaching school in Utah and didn't accompany them on the journey, coming to Custer later. The trip took until the first part of September. A diary was kept by Ruth Maudlin during the journey until they were within 100 miles of their destination. She also itemized each purchase that was made as they traveled, including groceries, hardware, and horse feed. They spent about $55.00, and the journey was 572 miles. I wish I could include this diary so all of you could read it, but that is impossible. I made a copy of it, so if anyone would like to have one, I have it available.

Five years (1907) after their arrival in Custer, Mattie (Dave's grandmother) Maudlin homesteaded and proved up on property northwest of Custer. The final deed was signed by President Woodrow Wilson on March 27, 1917. She raised her family there, and lived there until her death on August 10, 1941, at the age of 93 years, 7 months, and 26 days.

In September, 1979, we visited many members of the family in Wyoming and South Dakota. We learned from them that David Maudlin (Dave's grandfather) stayed in Utah when his wife, Mattie, and their children went to Custer, South Dakota. He spent his remaining years working in mines in Utah and Nevada. He passed away in Pioche, Nevada, in 1911. There is an article about his death in this booklet. His son, David T. Maudlin, went to Pioche, Nevada, to pick up his father's personal things. At that time, David T. and his wife, Prudence with their family were living in Lolo, Montana, which is close to Missoula.

I mentioned previously that we visited Custer, South Dakota in September, 1979. Dave (10th generation) met many relatives he had never seen. We went to Upton, Wyoming, where two of his aunts are buried. While in Upton, we met many of his second and third cousins. We were treated very graciously. We went on to Newcastle, Wyoming, where we visited two of Dave's first cousins and their husbands. Leave there, we crossed a mountain, and later that day, we arrived in Custer South Dakota, which was our original destination. There we stayed at Grandma Mattie's homestead, as an aunt is still living there and now owns the place. She is Alvina Maudlin, Uncle Walter's widow.

Dave has two first cousins also residing in Custer and a first cousin, Harold Maudlin, in Hill City, South Dakota, which is close to Mt. Rushmore. We visited Mt. Rushmore, also some of the grave sites of Dave's relatives; among them his grandma's. We had a wonderful eight or nine days in Custer, and hated to leave everyone.

This geneology report ends March 1, 1980. There had to be a final cut-off date. Those of the 12th generation, who will have more children will find extra spaces, which can be filled in.

One of the disappointments I encountered was in not being able to find a copy of the Maudlin Crest, or Coat of Arms. I searched for many hours in various libraries. Records about the crest may be in France, England, or North Carolina. Without a doubt, it was inherited by some member of the family. The last mention of it was when Hannah left it to her son, Ezekiel Jr. after the death of her husband, Ezekiel, 1, in North Carolina.

I do not pretend to be an author, and wanted to preface this genealogy, so that it might be more understandable to you. It is now as complete as possible after three years, three trips to various states, and ten thousand miles. I hope you enjoy this "little booklet" as much as I enjoy being able to bring it to you.

We had many memorable times, visiting relatives and places, which we would never have had without our wanting to know more about "The Maudlins"; which is what it is all about.

OUR MAUDLIN FAMILY IN AMERICA

This article was obtained from Mrs. Shelby Beaucamp, one of the descendants of Mark Maudlin, brother of Benjamin Maudlin (our ancestor). Many of the descendants of Mark Maudlin live in the southwestern part of Missouri. This data was received by Dr. Charles F. Voyles from his uncle, Nathan B. Maudlin, who had this information in an Atlas.

First Generation

Ezekiel Maudlin came from England and settled in what is now known as North Carolina. Records show he wed Hannah Nicholson of Perquimans Co., N. C. in 1693. The Maudlins were originally French Huguenots (Christians) driven to England by persecution and thence to America. Records also show Ezekiel owned land and left an estate, of which Hannah was named Administratrix.

Ezekiel and Hannah had five children; Edward, Ezekiel Jr., Mary, Elizabeth, and Sarah.

According to the English law prevailing in the colonies at that time, Edward inherited the land and Ezekiel, Jr. inherited a Coat of Arms, suggesting that this family was of more than ordinary importance.

Four years after the death of Ezekiel, which occurred March 16, 1706, Hannah remarried to a man named Davis. They had a daughter named Ann, as indicated in Hannah's will.

Sometime after the death of Davis, Hannah married Samuel Charles and another daughter, Hannah Jr., was born December 5, 1723. Hannah's third husband, Charles, died in 1728. Hannah remained a widow until her death in 1752. She left an estate disposed of by her will.

There is presumptive evidence that Ezekiel came from the London area, as indicated by the fact that later there were Maudlins in London with the same given name. Hannah Maudlin Charles made no mention in her will of any descendants of her son Ezekiel, Jr., who died twenty years prior to her death. There is a Maudlin Street in London, England.

Second Generation

Edward Maudlin, eldest son of Ezekiel and Hannah, wed Mary Nicholson (no relation to Hannah, above). Their children were Ezekiel, Edward, John, William, Gideon, Joseph, Mary, an un-named daughter, and Huldah. Ezekiel, whom you will observe is our ancestor, was presumably named for his Grandfather, the pioneer from England. This Ezekiel died on July 10, 1745.

Third Generation

Ezekiel Maudlin, son of Edward and Mary, wed Mary Hall. Records show they had at least three children, Edmund, Elizabeth, and Sarah. Edmund, the eldest, was born April 7, 1735.

Ezekiel*

Fourth Generation

Edmund Maudlin, son of Edward and Mary, wed Sarah Perisho (French). Their eldest son, Mark, was born in 1766. He wed Esther Worell. Edmund also had a son, Benjamin, (our ancestor), born October 12, 1771. Benjamin wed Leah Copeland in 1795. Edmund, as you can see, was the fourth generation of our direct line in North Carolina, and he was the last who died there.

THE LINCOLN COUNTY RECORD
Pioche, Nevada Est. 1870

Weekly Publication

Published July 1911

A well known citizen of Pioche was called to the other side this week; David Maudlin, an old time mining man of Utah and Nevada. He was a member of the Odd Fellows fraternity. The funeral was held from the Odd Fellows Hall last Wednesday. During the hour of the Obsequies, business was generally suspended that due homage might be paid to the memory of this pioneer, who numbered his friends in the hundreds.

The late Mr. Maudlin was engaged in mining in Beaver (Utah) many years. He was there when the Horn Silver mine at Frisco (near Beaver, Utah) was regarded as one of the most valuable mines in the West. Soon after A. B. Lewis organized the Majestic Copper Company to operate property near Millard. Mr. Maudlin was placed as Superintendent. On leaving the Majestic he came to Nevada and became active at Freburg and other mining camps in the Western part of the county.

Something over a year ago he was stricken with pneumonia and for days his life was dispared of; while he survived the attack, he was never a well man afterwards. His advanced age went against him and during the past year his friends could notice a gradual decline until his sufferings came to an end. He is survived by several children.

(In February 22, 1978 Dave (grandson of the above) Maudlin and his wife Orpha took a trip to Pioche, Nevada. We found the above story and also were able to obtain a copy of his death certificate. We also found and visited his grave site. There is no marker, but the Odd Fellows Lodge has a map of the grave sites.)
